Originally from Waukegan, Illinois, Robert Baker is a senior partner with Baker, Keener & Nahra. Regarded by his peers as one of the preeminent trial attorneys in the United States and a fervent believer in the value of the civil jury system, in his over forty years of practice Mr. Baker has never once backed down from fighting for the interests of his clients. Through this tenacious advocacy for both plaintiffs and defendants he has successfully brought hundreds of cases to trial on behalf of his clients in a wide range of disputes, including commercial and business litigation, professional liability, wrongful termination, toxic torts and catastrophic personal injury cases.

Mr. Baker has dedicated himself to working with attorney organizations, the courts and even Congress to improve and advocate for the civil justice process. This dedication is reflected in his work as the former national president of the American Board of Trial Advocates and his membership in the prestigious American College of Trial Lawyers, International Society of Barristers and International Academy of Trial Lawyers, among numerous other legal organizations both in California and across the country.
